Come and join your fellow Pro-Mozart Society members for an exciting musical afternoon. The competition, with a reception following, will take place on Sunday, February 25, 2007, at 2:00 PM. Please note the change of time to 2:00. The location is the Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, 805 Mt. Vernon Highway, Atlanta, GA 30327. (See directions to the church on page 4.)

Janet Joiner, VP-Scholarship, promises a wonderful program.

Finalists are

Juliet Anderson, soprano; Maria Clark, soprano; Slavik Gabinsky, piano; Ben Jackson, clarinet; Maria McDaniel, mezzo-soprano; Elizabeth Nichols, flute; and Xi Wang, soprano.

Each finalist will perform a Mozart composition of his/her choosing and will then perform one or more selections by other composers chosen by the judges. Following the competition, the reception will begin, while the judges deliberate and choose a winner. The winner will receive a $4,000 scholarship for summer study at the Mozarteum Institute in Salzburg, Austria. He or she will return to present a concert sponsored by Pro-Mozart the following year.

Additionally, the judges will select the recipient of the Edward F. Meehan Stage Presence award. Mr. Meehan felt that stage presence and the connection to the audience was a very important aspect of overall impact of performance. The $250 award is funded by contributions made in memory of Mr. Meehan.

This program is always one of our most popular and demonstrates the enormous amount of talent in Georgia. By sponsoring this competition, Pro-Mozart helps to ensure excellence in classical music in future generations. Please plan to come and do bring your friends.

Greetings and happy new year to all. I hope everyone has a successful and healthy 2007.

Undoubtedly, you immediately noticed a change in the Amadeus. After eight years as publisher, Lance Hill has advised that he is unable to continue in this role, due to family and professional obligations. Lance told me it was a very difficult decision to make, as he enjoyed putting our newsletter together and cares for our organization very much. While we are very sorry to lose Lance in the role of publisher, we understand his priorities and wish him well. He will always be a valued member of Pro-Mozart. On the positive side, I am very pleased to advise that Lance has agreed, from time to time, to continue his popular column "Majoring In Mozart." Please join me in thanking Lance for all his contributions to our Society.

I would appreciate hearing your ideas about how the Amadeus should be structured, and if anyone in the Society wants to participate in helping putting it together.

I am so excited about this year's scholarship competition. According to Janet Joiner, VP-Scholarship, the slate of finalists is outstanding. You won't want to miss the event on Sunday, February 25, 2007 at 2:00 PM. Please note that this time has been changed from earlier communications. Our other concerts will continue beginning at 3:00, but in order to allow each finalist to demonstrate his or her talents, we have an earlier start time. As always, there will be a meet-the-artists reception following the competition.

I'm looking forward to seeing you on the 25th. Yours in music, Kay Alvelda
