MOZART QUOTE

"If one has the talent it pushes for utterance and torments one; it will out; and then one is out with it without questioning. And, look you, there is nothing in this thing of learning out of books. Here, here and here (pointing to his ear, his head, his heart) is your school. If everything is right there, then take your pen and down with it; afterward ask the opinion of a man who knows his business."

A letter from our President . . .

Greetings to all Pro-Mozart Society Members, Supporters, Patrons and Friends,

I hope that everyone is well and that you are all finding ways to seek out and enjoy the arts and music in our great city with family and friends. This season has been a great musical experience for all of us and we have been treated with performances from a diversity of artists presenting works from a wide spectrum of great composers.

The 2017 Scholarship Competition was truly a treat for all in attendance and surprisingly yielded not one, but two deserving winners this year. Both of whom will soon be participating in the 2017 summer music study program at the Mozarteum in Austria as a result. We eagerly await hearing great things from them about their experiences next season.

The remainder of our 2016-17 season promises to be just as spectacular as what has come before. Great artists, friends and above all amazing music awaits us beginning with our next big event . . . The annual Pro-Mozart Spring Fling Members and Friends Concert on Sunday, May 7th at 3:00 pm. The venue will be The St. John United Methodist Church on Mt. Paran Road. As this season continues to unfold, we also look forward with great anticipation to a recital from last year's Scholarship winner, pianist John Mori, followed by our Annual Meeting and Picnic. Please be advised that both events will occur on the same afternoon, also at The St. John United Methodist Church.

As always, it cannot be said enough how grateful we are to our current members and long-time supporters for their ongoing generous support of the Society. We humbly remind ALL current members to renew their memberships for the 2017-18 season. We also invite and welcome the interest and participation of any and ALL potential new members and friends to join us, as we strive to continue our legacy of fostering classical music education and interest in the musical works of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and other composers. So tell your friends, families, co-workers and music lovers alike to come along. We would love to have them.

A full schedule of events has been provided on the last page of this newsletter and we invite everyone to join us as we present another great season next year!

Sincerely,

Trevin
